1 TO THE HONORABLE SCOTT C. CLARKSON, UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY
2 COURT JUDGE, THE OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES TRUSTEE, AND ALL INTERESTED 3 PARTIES:

4 Richard Marshack, solely in his capacity as the former Chapter 11 Trustee (“Trustee”) for the 5 Bankruptcy Estate (“Estate”) of The Litigation Practice Group P.C. (“Debtor” or “LPG”) and current 6 Liquidating Trustee of the LPG Liquidation Trust, respectfully submits this motion for entry of an 7 order extending the time to file actions governed by 11 U.S.C. §§ 108, 541, 542, 544, 546, 547, 548, 8 549, 550 and 551 (“Recovery Claims”) for a period of approximately 120 more days, moving the 9 statute which currently is set for September 19, 2025 to January 16, 2026 (“Motion”):

10 SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

11 Limitation dates to file claims held by bankruptcy estates can be extended upon a showing of 12 good cause. In this case, the Court already extended the deadline once from March 19, 2025 to 13 September 19, 2025 (the “Litigation Deadline”). Now, the Trustee seeks another 120 days extending 14 the deadline to January 16, 2026.

15 Trustee submits that good cause exists to extend or equitably toll the Litigation Deadline. As 16 detailed below, Trustee has not been idle in this case. He has diligently investigated and untangled 17 the complex affairs of Debtor, its principals, associates, and affiliated businesses. As a result, Trustee 18 has initiated and prosecuted hundreds of adversary proceedings and has already recovered millions 19 of dollars for the benefit of Debtor’s numerous creditors, many of whom are the previous consumer 20 clients of Debtor.

21 Despite significant challenges, including: concealment, and in some cases, destruction of 22 relevant evidence; reticent percipient witnesses; and other litigation-related obstacles, Trustee’s 23 ongoing investigation has been prolific. Using previously unavailable sources and methods, Trustee 24 recently identified new potential defendants and additional causes of action to be included in existing 25 cases, as well as more transfers of Debtor’s money from various related entities. Trustee is now 26 drafting and vetting, many new transfers, and a handful of new adversary proceedings against recently 27 identified defendants. In sum, Trustee’s investigation has revealed additional defendants who should 28 not be allowed to enjoy their ill-gotten gains at the expense of Debtor’s creditors.

1 Thus, Trustee submits that good cause exists to grant this motion.

2 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3 This Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334 and 157(a). This 4 matter is a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 157(b). Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C.
5 §§ 1408 and 1409.

6 BACKGROUND

7 On March 20, 2023 (“Petition Date”), Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 8 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of 9 California, initiating Case No. 8:23-bk-10571-SC.

10 On May 8, 2023, Trustee was appointed as Chapter 11 Trustee of the Estate and assumed all 11 authority to administer the Estate in this case. Docket No. 65.

12 On September 9, 2024, the Court entered an order (“Confirmation Order”) confirming the 13 Modified First Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated June 14, 2024) (“Plan”) [Dk.
14 No. 1646]. On September 24, 2024, the Trustee filed the Notice of Occurrence of the Effective Date 15 of the Plan [Dk. No. 1762] (“Effective Date”). Thereafter, Trustee became the trustee of the 16 liquidating trust.

17 A. Debtor’s Scheme

18 Debtor operated as a law firm that provided consumer debt resolution services to its clients.
19 The disbarment of Tony M. Diab (“Mr. Diab”) in California and Nevada resulted in the Debtor’s 20 formation. Mr. Diab was disbarred in Nevada for significant misconduct, including stealing a 21 $375,000 client settlement payment, forging client retainer agreements to conceal the conversion of 22 client funds, and forging the signature of a judge on a falsified order.

23 On February 7, 2019, the State Bar of California entered default against Mr. Diab on similar 24 claims in a pending California proceeding and placed Mr. Diab’s law license on involuntary inactive 25 status. Mr. Diab was subsequently disbarred from the practice of law in California on January 10, 26 2020.

27 Debtor was incorporated in California on February 22, 2019. The incorporation occurred less 28 than a month after Mr. Diab’s Nevada disbarment and two weeks after Mr. Diab’s law license was

1 placed on involuntary inactive status in California. The Trustee alleges that the Debtor was formed to 2 conceal the transfer and continuation of Mr. Diab's preexisting debt resolution practice
3 notwithstanding his inability to practice law and for Mr. Diab to essentially continue the practice post-4 disbarment.

5 The Trustee's diligent prosecution of this case has exposed Mr. Diab's scheme and has already 6 resulted in millions of dollars collected for the benefit of Debtor's defrauded creditors.

7 Prepetition, Debtor serviced more than 50,000 consumer clients across the United States with 8 an estimated annual cash flow of $150 million in 2022. That cash flow, however, does not represent 9 a revenue stream in which Debtor has an equitable interest, to the contrary, the monies received were 10 essentially trust funds belonging to consumer clients of LPG, misused by the Debtor.

11 Debtor utilized both in-house and third-party marketing affiliates to obtain consumer client 12 referrals on a massive scale. Mr. Diab used processing entities he controlled, including Vulcan
13 Consulting Group LLC, Coast Processing LLC, PrimeLogix LLC, and/or Maverick Management 14 Group LLC to divert LPG consumer funds and ACH receivables. Mr. Diab would use numerous ACH 15 processing companies to easily transfer millions of dollars from Debtor to these entities without 16 oversight or detection, and to avoid payment disputes and complications. The money that flowed from 17 Debtor through these bank account, and then to various defendants, consisted of client funds that were 18 funneled to these entities by means of the ACH processing companies.

19 Debtor also utilized a network of hundreds of third-party marketing affiliates to purchase 20 referrals. In each case, Debtor acquired potential client data either in-house or from third-parties that 21 identified victims of predatory lending, consumer debt potentially subject to challenge, and through 22 other methods. Rather than pay for these referral lists upfront, Debtor paid third-party marketing 23 affiliates a percentage of its "revenue" stream, the collections earned from referred clients through 24 revenue generated from those clients during their engagement with the Debtor. The marketing 25 affiliates' practices were dubious at best and, included direct solicitation and referral of clients (which 26 violated the rules of professional conduct governing licensed attorneys in multiple jurisdictions). In 27 some circumstances, the marketing affiliates would assist with the execution of a Legal Service 28 Agreement ("LSA") between the Debtor and a consumer client. Trustee asserts that this arrangement

1 was illegal, was detrimental to Debtor, and served primarily to line the pockets of the affiliate 2 marketing companies.

3 The series of prepetition transactions involving Debtor, Mr. Diab, Mr. Diab's co-conspirators, 4 or their affiliates include the following:

- 5 • Repeatedly either selling, or utilizing as purported collateral, the same accounts 6 receivable from the same client files to factoring companies, other lenders, or 7 investors;
- 8 • Transferring client files to third parties selected by Mr. Diab or his co-conspirators 9 for little or no consideration and without consumer client consent;
- 10 • Diverting ACH draws from consumer clients under the LSAs to the accounts of 11 processing entities; and
- 12 • Causing the processing entities to initiate duplicative and unauthorized ACH draws 13 against consumer client accounts.

14 The foregoing transactions, among others, siphoned substantial cash flow from Debtor and its 15 legitimate creditors. Debtor also entered into a series of purportedly secured borrowings, sales, and 16 investments on unfavorable terms to finance its operations and to pay fees owed to the marketing 17 affiliates that Debtor could not otherwise sustain.

18 In addition to the marketing affiliates, Debtor also conducted business with so-called 19 Merchant Cash Advance ("MCA") lenders with whom it had MCA Agreements. LPG received 20 payments from consumers over time, and it often sought financing by borrowing against these 21 receivables primarily through the MCA Agreements. However, LPG was not selling accounts 22 receivable to MCA lenders, it was instead obtaining short term loans in return for the transfer of future
23 monthly payments made by clients. This borrowing was not only used to finance operations at LPG 24 and to pay fees owed to the marketing companies for providing the client referrals, but also was used 25 to pay creditors that had provided earlier-in-time financing in a growing Ponzi scheme.

26 Given that all or a substantial portion of Debtor's ACH Receivables were transferred multiple 27 times, there were more claims for payment from any one ACH Receivable than the receivable would 28 generate. Creditors and clients became increasingly aware of the misconduct orchestrated by Mr. Diab

1 and his co-conspirators. For example, between late April 2023 and May 2023, entities to which Debtor 2 impermissibly transferred client files began receiving client complaints related to duplicative or 3 fraudulent ACH draws against their accounts. Other creditors who expected more significant 4 payments under the terms of their agreements began filing lawsuits to enforce their asserted rights 5 against Debtor. On March 10, 2023, a California state court in one such lawsuit ordered the 6 appointment of a receiver. Debtor filed the Bankruptcy Case on March 20, 2023, in part, to frustrate 7 the appointment of the Receiver.

8 B. Trustee's Efforts Since His Appointment

9 Trustee has retained several professionals, including the national law firm of Dinsmore &
10 Shohl LLP ("Dinsmore"), to do a deep dive into the misconduct described above. This included 11 locating witnesses who worked for LPG, witnesses who worked for competitors of LPG (the 12 fraudulent conveyance partners), creditors of LPG, and advertising affiliates of LPG who provided 13 documents and testimony that exposed the many tentacles of Mr. Diab's fraudulent enterprise.

14 Just weeks after his appointment, Trustee filed an adversary proceeding no. 8:23-ap-01046 15 (the "1046 Action") against dozens of defendants, including Mr. Diab. (Declaration of Richard A.
16 Marshack ("Marshack Dec.") at ¶ 10.) One of the main objectives of this early adversary proceeding 17 was preserve evidence to be used in Trustee's nascent investigation. Id. This is emblematic of 18 Trustee's top-down approach to this litigation. (Id.) In other words, Trustee believed it prudent, given 19 the scale of the task, to pursue claims against the worst and most culpable of the many bad actors in 20 this case. (Id. at ¶ 21.) Trustee believed, and has been proven correct, that this strategy would not only 21 lead to greater recovery of funds for the Estate, but also would reveal significant sources of 22 information that could be put to good use in subsequent litigation. (Id.) This is exactly what has 23 occurred. The investigation remains ongoing.

24 Since filing the 1046 Action, Trustee has successfully objected to several proofs of claim, 25 thereby preserving significant funds for distribution to creditors. Trustee has initiated dozens of 26 adversary proceedings against high-value defendants, including marketing affiliates and MCA 27 lenders. If successful, these actions will recover millions of dollars for distribution to creditors.

28 ///

1 Trustee is investigating and vetting causes of action against dozens more marketing affiliates and 2 MCA lenders, all of which will be filed by March 19, 2025.

3 Trustee also successfully challenged 23 purported lienholders who asserted liens encumbering 4 nearly $175 million of Debtor's assets. Trustee's challenges to these lienholders resulted in 5 settlements reducing the secured claims amount from $169,901,643 to $1,355,000.

6 Trustee has settled or is in current settlement negotiations with dozens of defendants to avoid 7 costly litigation. (Marshack Dec. ¶ 20) The proceeds from those settlements not yet fully resolved, 8 when finalized and approved by this Court, will be used for the benefit of the Estate, and creditors of 9 the Liquidating Trust.

10 A comprehensive summary of the Trustee's investigative efforts and actions taken in this case 11 through August 2025 are set forth in the Trustee Status Report filed in the case (Dkt. No. 2747).

12 In the midst of this investigation, Trustee managed to confirm Plan.

13 C. Recent Developments

14 Over the last three months, Trustee has made significant progress in identifying, locating, and 15 investigating more potential recipients of fraudulent conveyances, participants in Mr. Diab's scheme, 16 and sources of information that can help Trustee discover even more. Of great importance, is the 17 Trustee's uncovering of more and more entities, which LPG funds were diverted to, as well as were 18 investor money was diverted. This information is being learned through subpoenas to various third 19 parties. The Trustee is still in the lengthy process of sifting through recently produced evidence and 20 vetting proposed causes of action against a handful of new defendants.

21 LEGAL ARGUMENT

22 A. Section 546's Limitation Period May Be Extended

23 i. A Court May Enlarge A Statute of Limitations Period By Order

24 "An action or proceeding under section 544, 545, 547, 548, or 553 of this title may not be 25 commenced after . . . the later of . . . 2 years after the entry of the order for relief; or 1 year after the 26 appointment or election of the first trustee . . ." 11 U.S.C. § 546(a)(1). Alternatively, if the case is 27 closed or dismissed before the time period in § 546(a)(1) expires, no further action may be 28 commenced. 11 U.S.C. § 546(a)(2).

1 Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure (“FRBP”) 9006(b) states in pertinent part:

2 “This paragraph (1) applies when these rules, a notice given under these rules, or a 3 court order requires or allows an act to be performed at or within a specified period... the 4 court may—at any time and for cause—extend the time to act if:

5 (A) with or without a motion or notice, a request to extend is made before the period 6 (or a previously extended period) expires; or

7 (B) on motion made after the specified period expires, the failure to act within that 8 period resulted from excusable neglect.”

9 Most courts agree that the limitations period under § 546 may be enlarged. See Ernst & Young 10 v. Matsumoto (In re United Ins. Mgmt.), 14 F.3d 1380, 1384-85 (9th Cir. 1994). In taking up the 11 question of whether the two-year limitations period under § 546 may be enlarged by FRBP 9006(b), 12 the Eleventh Circuit noted that although FRBP 9006(b) “does not explicitly encompass statutory 13 timeframes, it does bring all of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure under its umbrella.” In re 14 Int’l Admin. Servs., 408 F.3d 689, 699 (11th Cir. 2005)². The court further noted that “this would 15 include Rule 7001, which defines an adversary proceeding as one ‘to recover money or property’ and 16 Rule 7003, which governs the commencement of adversary proceedings.” Id. Thus, the Eleventh 17 Circuit concluded that § 546 was a statute of limitations subject to enlargement by the court—not a 18 jurisdictional bar or statute of repose (in which case it would not be subject to enlargement). Id.
19 Finally, the Court held that bankruptcy courts generally have “discretion to extend the filing period 20 for an adversary proceeding[.]” Id. (finding that the Bankruptcy Court had authority to extend the 21 filing period for adversary proceedings within the purview of Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9006(b) where the 22 Trustee had encountered significant difficulty and delay in discovery preventing the timely filings of 23 adversary proceedings). See also In re Kwok, 2024 Bankr. LEXIS 369 (Bankr. D. Conn. Feb. 15,

26 ² Trustee is aware of at least one non-binding case in this Circuit that does not agree with the analysis
27 of the Eleventh Circuit as to a Bankruptcy Court’s ability to enlarge a statute of limitations period 28 under FRBP 9006(b). See In re Cramer, 636 B.R. 830 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2022). However, in Cramer, the prevailing concern was lack of notice of the motion to extend deadlines to prospective defendants.
It is for this reason that Trustee has endeavored to serve notice of this motion as widely as reasonably possible under the circumstances.

2024) (“the Court concludes that it may extend the statutes of limitation set forth by sections 108(a), 546(a), and 549(d) pursuant to Rule 9006(b) despite Rule 9006(b) not including ‘statute’ in its language.”) (citing among other cases, In re Int’l Admin. Servs.) (emphasis added).

ii. A Court May Enlarge The Statute of Limitations By Equitable Tolling

Despite holding that a court order was sufficient to enlarge the two-year limitations period, the Eleventh Circuit nevertheless decided, in an abundance of caution, to analyze whether the enlargement of time was appropriate under an equitable tolling analysis. In re Fundamental Long Term Care, Inc., 501 B.R. 784, 788 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. 2013) (discussing In re Int’l Admin. Servs., 408 F.3d 689 (11th Cir. 2005)). Generally, a litigant seeking equitable tolling bears the burden of establishing two elements: (1) that he has been pursuing his rights diligently, and (2) that some extraordinary circumstance stood in his way. Pace v. DiGuglielmo, 544 U.S. 408, 418 (2005).

In the context of equitable tolling, the equities to consider in determining whether to extend or toll a statute of limitations in a bankruptcy proceeding often involve whether the debtor failed to cooperate with the bankruptcy trustee or sought to impede the trustee’s investigation and liquidation of assets for the benefit of creditors. In re Kwok, 2024 Bankr. LEXIS 369, at *15 citing Gladstone v. U.S. Bancorp, 811 F.3d 1133, 1143 (9th Cir. 2016).

Indeed, “[a] bankruptcy case presents a rather different slant on equitable tolling. In the typical situation, it is the debtor’s conduct rather than the defendant’s conduct which invokes equitable tolling. In some senses, this is unfair to the defendant. On the other hand, unlike the usual civil case where a plaintiff at least has the advantage of being a party to the underlying transaction, a bankruptcy trustee must rely almost entirely on a third party (the debtor) to provide the information necessary to uncover avoidable transfers.” Moratzka v. Pomaville (In re Pomaville), 190 B.R. 632, 637 (Bankr. D. Minn 1995).

“Every court that has considered the issue has held that equitable tolling applies to § 546(a)(1).” In re United Ins. Mgm., 14 F.3d at 1384. Moreover, a “court should not look at the trustee’s post-discovery diligence when considering whether equitable tolling should be applied.” Templeton v. Milby (In re Milby), 545 B.R. 613, 622 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2016). The limitations period may also be extended by court order or stipulation. Official Creditors’ Comm. for Omect, Inc. v.

1 Electrochem Funds, LLC (In re Omect, Inc.), 349 B.R. 620, 624-25 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2006) (§ 546’s 2 legislative history indicates that the time limits of § 546(a) “are not intended to be jurisdictional and 3 can be extended by stipulation between the necessary parties to the action or proceeding”).

4 When an extension of time is sought before the § 546 time period expires, the request is 5 governed by the “for cause” analysis under Rule 9006(b). See, e.g. In re Fundamental Long Term
6 Care, Inc., 501 B.R. 788; In re Int’l Admin. Servs., 408 F.3d. at 699.

7 iii. Good Cause Exists For The Court To Enlarge The Period To Bring 8 Additional Adversary Proceedings Under FRBP 9006(b) and Equitable 9 Tolling Due To Trustee’s Demonstrated Diligence Is Also Justified

10 Here, the Petition Date is March 20, 2023, which meat that, under 11 U.S.C. § 546(a)(1), the 11 deadline for Trustee to file a complaint under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544, 545, 547, 548, or 553 was March 19, 12 2025. (Marshack Dec. at ¶ 3.) The Trustee already filed an extension of time, which was granted by 13 the Court, extending that statute to September 19, 2025. Now good cause exists to extend the deadline 14 under the facts of this case for another 120 days, until January 19, 2026.

15 In terms of Trustee’s diligence and good cause, the Trustee discovered early on that as the 16 Debtor was approaching the bankruptcy filing, it was not only transferring its assets, but destroying 17 emails, documents, and information related to the scheme. The Trustee has thus had to seek numerous 18 2004 applications to obtain relevant financial records from Debtor, Debtor’s principals and other 19 entities that Diab controlled. Trustee has steadfastly pursued his investigation using all available 20 methods of information gathering including regular use of subpoenas, depositions, witness interviews, 21 demand letters, and other methods of informal discovery. (Id. at ¶ 16.) In the course of these efforts, 22 Trustee has encountered obstacles such as intentional concealment and/or destruction of relevant 23 evidence, reticent percipient witnesses, and document production well into the tens of millions of 24 pages in scope. (Id. at ¶¶ 13-16.) All of this is against the backdrop of a widespread criminal scheme 25 to defraud consumers using a sophisticated and deliberately opaque network of interrelated entities
26 and individuals that aided and abetted the main scheme. (Id. at ¶ 17.)

27 Trustee has enlisted the assistance of both local and national law firms who have brought their 28 considerable resources to bear on uncovering as many bad actors as can reasonably be found.
Through Trustee’s constant and diligent endeavors, Trustee has compiled a list numbering in the

1 hundreds of entities and individuals who were involved in some manner in the greater scheme. (Id. at 2 ¶ 15.) Trustee has exercised discretion in prioritizing litigation targets after thoughtful deliberation 3 on the available evidence and the amount in controversy.

4 An additional obstacle encountered by Trustee has been the “moving target” nature of the 5 investigation caused by, inter alia, new sources of information, and compliance with subpoenas, 6 which necessarily forces Trustee and his professionals to constantly re-assess and re-prioritize. For 7 example, Trustee is discovering new fraudulent transferees and new causes of action based upon 8 sources of information not available until just a few months ago. (Id. at ¶ 22.) The information learned 9 through these sources has been put to immediate use in the ongoing investigation. Compliance with 10 Trustee’s subpoenas has revealed additional transfers of Debtor’s funds, which necessarily alters the 11 calculus on whether and on what grounds to pursue a given litigation target. Trustee anticipates that 12 the information from these sources will result in even stronger causes of action, which, in turn, could 13 facilitate the settlement process, and reduce the amount of necessary litigation.

14 Trustee is mindful of his obligation imposed by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 11(b) and its 15 analogue, Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9011(b), and will make every attempt to investigate 16 each claim, within reason, prior to filing an adversary proceeding.³ Given the challenges faced, 17 Trustee has still filed hundreds of adversary proceedings, many of which are in active litigation. (Id.
18 at ¶ 19.) Trustee has also sent out scores of demand and probable cause letters to potential litigation 19 targets based on his ongoing investigation. (Id.)

20 The balance of equities weighs strongly toward granting the relief sought by this motion. The 21 creditors of Debtor, many of whom were victims of a sophisticated criminal conspiracy, deserve to 22 have as much money recouped as possible. Again, the uncommon level of sophistication of the 23 conspiracy has made it an extraordinary task to untangle the complex web created by Debtor and its 24 many cohorts. Thus, the wrongdoers, aiders, and abettors who have managed to evade Trustee’s 25 spotlight to date should not get off scot-free where this Court may extend the statute of limitations.

26
27 ³ Trustee’s investigation of many claims is substantially impeded because well over 100 possible
28 defendants have failed to respond to the Trustee’s numerous demand and probable cause letters (multiple rounds to letters to each transferee) requesting documents and information related to potentially avoidable transfers.

1 Especially where the ring-leader and individual at the center of the conspiracy is a former attorney 2 who is well aware of the statute of limitations the Trustee is facing.

3 The authority of the Court to extend these deadlines is rooted in sound public policy 4 recognizing that pre-litigation investigations are often protracted affairs caused by intentional 5 hindrance and obstruction. Even when making timely and prudent use of the tools available to conduct 6 an investigation, time can still run short, given the extraordinary circumstances this case poses. As 7 noted, Trustee has made use of dozens of subpoenas to banks and credit card companies and, when 8 necessary, has threatened those entities with applications for issuance of orders to show cause re:
9 contempt. (Id. at ¶16). Trustee has also conducted many witness interviews, depositions, and other 10 informal discovery to gather the required information. (Id. at ¶13). The extraordinary volume of 11 information, which Trustee estimates is approximately 34 million documents and counting, gathered 12 to this point is a testament not only to Trustee's diligence, but also the sheer scale of the task before 13 Trustee and his professionals. (Id. at ¶16).

14 Despite thoughtful focused searches and proper prioritizing of litigation targets, Trustee still 15 has the task of reviewing nearly a million documents. (Id.) These documents range from emails to 16 bank statements, to various corporate documents, the review of which is tedious and extremely time-17 consuming. Even at a very conservative estimate of one minute per targeted document for review, it 18 would still take well over a year and a half for a single person, doing nothing else but reviewing these 19 documents 24 hours a day, seven days a week to complete such a review. In other words, just 20 reviewing the most pertinent documents produced in this case consumes a substantial portion of the 21 time allotted by the statute of limitations.

22 Once the pertinent documents in Trustee's possession are catalogued, and it has been 23 determined that there is sufficient information with which to press claims against a given target, 24 Trustee must then take following actions: locate current addresses for businesses and their principals, 25 locate agents, pull corporate records to see if they are still operating; perform asset search to make 26 sure they are collectable, and then attempt to make contact through demand letters and requests for 27 further documentation. (Id. at ¶16).

28 ///

1 Despite the need for an extension, Trustee and his professionals have been diligently pursuing 2 their litigation targets and have already filed over a hundred adversary proceedings. Trustee 3 anticipates that by the current deadline, Trustee will be prepared to file maybe 10-20 more, but may 4 also have the need to amend those that are already on file. (Id. at ¶22).

5 In sum, this case, due to the combination of factors discussed above, clearly illustrates good 6 cause for the extension of deadlines and equitable tolling.

7 B. Section 549’s Limitation Period May Be Extended

8 Section 549 provides in pertinent part that “[a]n action or proceeding under this section may 9 not be commenced after the earlier of (1) two years after the date of the transfer sought to be avoided 10 or (2) the time the case is closed or dismissed . . . ” 11 U.S.C. § 549(d). Because § 549 is a statute of 11 limitations, it too is subject to enlargement. For example, it may be enlarged by court order and 12 equitable tolling. The two-year limitation period on the bankruptcy trustee’s action to void a post-13 petition transfer of estate property can be equitably tolled by the Debtor’s conduct. Olsen v. Zerbetz
14 (In re Olsen), 36 F.3d 71, 73 (9th Cir. 1994); see also, Congrejo Invs., LLC v. Mann (In re Bender), 15 No. AZ-07-1178-NKD, 2007 Bankr. LEXIS 4911 at *14 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Nov. 21, 2007) (holding 16 the principle of equitable tolling applies to § 549(d), as stated by the Ninth Circuit in In re Olsen).

17 The Supreme Court itself has previously held that “in cases where the plaintiff has refrained 18 from commencing suit during the period of limitation because of inducement by the defendant, or 19 because of fraudulent concealment, this Court has not hesitated to find the statutory period tolled or 20 suspended by the conduct of the defendant.” American Pipe & Const. Co. v. Utah, 414 U.S. 538, 559 21 (1974) (citing Glus v. Brooklyn E. Dist. Terminal, 359 U.S. 231 (1959) and Holmberg v. Armbrrecht, 22 327 U.S. 392 (1946)).

23 Though already set forth in detail above, Trustee offers the following summation: Trustee 24 entered the case nearly two months after the Petition Date and immediately set to the task of 25 conducting this enormous investigation. Trustee quickly employed professionals to aid in the 26 investigation. Even with the considerable resources brought to bear by Trustee, the sheer scale of the 27 undertaking, including navigating an opaque labyrinth of associated individuals and entities, to say

28 ///

1 nothing of the millions of documents produced, is one that requires additional time to properly and 2 completely prosecute.

3 For the reasons discussed above, Trustee submits that additional time beyond the current 4 September 19, 2025, deadline is required to ensure that Trustee is able to conduct a thorough 5 investigation and do right by the creditors and the Court consistent with the mandate attending his 6 appointment.

7 CONCLUSION

8 Trustee has been diligently and prudently conducting an unusually complex, multi-faceted 9 investigation to recover the substantial sums lost to the LPG criminal enterprise. Trustee has 10 overcome major obstacles and impediments in order to bring the investigation to its current state. He 11 is in the midst of properly vetting causes of action, with an eye toward incorporating them into both 12 new and existing adversary proceedings. Trustee believes the requested 120-day extension is both 13 warranted and modest given the circumstances of this case, and he requests that the Court approve 14 the extension.

15 Respectfully submitted,

DECLARATION OF RICHARD A. MARSHACK

I, Richard A. Marshack, declare as follows:

1. I am the duly appointed Chapter 11 Trustee (“Trustee”) for the bankruptcy estate (“Estate”) of the Litigation Practice Group P.C. (“Debtor”) and liquidating trustee of the LPG Liquidation Trust.

2. I am an individual over 18 years of age and competent to make this declaration. Unless otherwise stated, I have personal knowledge of the matters set forth in this declaration, and if called upon to do so, I could and would be able to testify to these facts.

3. I make this declaration in support of my second motion for an order extending the Estate’s time to file actions governed by 11 U.S.C. §§108, 546(a)(1), and 549(d) for a period of 120 more days to January 16, 2026 (the “Motion”). The current deadline to file these actions is September 19, 2025.

4. All terms not defined herein are used as they defined in the Motion.

5. On March 20, 2023, Debtor filed a voluntary petition under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Code (the “Petition Date”).

6. I was duly appointed as the chapter 11 trustee on May 8, 2023.

7. The Court confirmed the Modified First Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated June 14, 2024) (the “Plan”) on September 9, 2024. A true and correct copy of the Order Confirmation the Plan can be found at Dkt. No. 1646 on the court at <https://www.cacb.uscourts.gov/>.

8. Upon my appointment, I promptly set about initiating an investigation into Debtor’s affairs in an effort to size up the scale of the task of administering the Estate. In doing so, I discovered the pre-petition facts set forth in the Motion, and quickly grasped the enormity of the undertaking.

9. Realizing the magnitude of assistance required to administer this estate, I engaged the services of the national law firm, Dinsmore & Shohl LLP (“Dinsmore”) as my special counsel, Marshack Hays and Wood (“MHW”) as my general counsel, and accountants, Grobstein Teeple LLP (“Grobstein”).

1 10. In the first few weeks following my appointment, with the assistance of Dinsmore, I 2 initiated an adversary proceeding, bearing case number 8:23-ap-01046-SC, against numerous 3 defendants including Debtor's principal, Tony Diab ("Mr. Diab") to, among other things, enjoin the 4 transfer or dissipation of Estate assets recover assets transferred pursuant to certain avoidable or 5 fraudulent transactions, and obtain turnover of certain Debtor assets not in the possession, custody, 6 or control of the Debtor. This action is emblematic of my top-down approach to litigation in this case.

7 11. I then filed an emergency motion [Adv. Dkt. No. 4], inter alia, seeking turnover of 8 certain estate property, a preliminary injunction, lock-out of certain parties from accessing certain 9 estate property, and related relief. The motion and related papers [Adv. Dkt. Nos. 3-8] included 10 requests for immediate turnover and preservation of critical operating information, client information, 11 accounts, ACH processing accounts, bank accounts and client funds. On June 23, 2023, the 12 Bankruptcy Court entered an order [Adv. Dkt. No. 70] granting the motion.

13 12. By preserving much, though not all, of the information in Debtor's possession, 14 custody, and control, I, with the assistance of Dinsmore, MHW and Grobstein, was able to confirm 15 the identities of key associates, business partners, and affiliates of Debtor who actively participated, 16 aided, and abetted Debtor's scheme.

17 13. Thereafter, with the assistance of my professionals, I conducted witness interviews, 18 depositions of key individuals, and propounded scores of discovery requests upon the individuals and 19 entities associated with Debtor.

20 14. Unfortunately, in the course of this investigation, I learned that at least some Estate 21 assets had been transferred, lost, or destroyed. One method of destroying evidence that I became 22 aware of was through shredding documents, including complaints from state attorneys general. (Adv.
23 Dkt. No. 493-10; Supplemental Declaration of Alex Rubin ¶ 24 and Exhibit 43). Mr. Diab also, 24 through the creation of new entities, transferred substantial portions of Debtor's assets pre-petition in 25 an effort to frustrate anticipated investigations into Debtor.

26 15. With this knowledge, I began the next phase of investigating the hundreds of 27 individuals and entities who received transfers of funds from Debtor as a result of the unlawful 28 fraudulent conspiracy in the four years prior to the Petition Date. Using the information gathered

1 through subpoenas, I have become aware of transfers to many of these individuals and entities. As 2 such, with subpoenas still out, these investigations remain ongoing.

3 16. An effective and thorough investigation necessarily entails reviewing documents that 4 number at least in the tens of millions (by least one estimate known to me, approximately 34 million 5 documents). Understand that through targeted filtering of the documents, the number of documents 6 requiring review is still nearly 1 million. It means issuing scores of subpoenas to third parties, some 7 of whom resists and require me to threaten them with an Order To Show Cause re: Contempt. Based 8 on what those subpoenas reveal, there may be a need for additional subpoenas and requests for 9 documents to even more third parties. Then the sometimes more difficult tasks begin, including 10 locating current addresses for businesses and their principals; locating agents; pulling corporate 11 records to see if businesses are still operating; performing asset searches to make sure they are 12 collectable; and then attempting to make contact through demand letters and requests for further 13 documentation. This is the inescapable nature of investigations of this type.

14 17. An indispensable aspect of Mr. Diab's scheme was to make Debtor's network as 15 confusing and opaque to an outsider as possible such that any investigation by a regulatory agency, 16 law enforcement agency, or, as is the case here, a court appointed trustee, would encounter a 17 seemingly endless parade of obstacles and impediments.

18 18. Being a former attorney, Mr. Diab was all too aware of the statute of limitations period 19 and knew that any investigation would inevitably meet a time crunch to bring mature and properly 20 vetted complaints against him, his co-conspirators, and aiders and abettors.

21 19. To date, despite the considerable impediments I have confronted in the course of his 22 investigation, I have prosecuted hundreds of well-vetted adversary proceedings, with dozens more 23 undergoing the vetting process, and which will be filed in the near future.

24 20. I have also settled or am in current settlement negotiations with dozens of defendants 25 in an effort to avoid costly litigation. The proceeds from those settlements not yet fully resolved, will 26 be used for the benefit of the Estate and the creditors of the Liquidating Trust.

27 21. I have always believed that taking a top-down approach to filing adversary proceeding 28 actions in this case was the wisest course of action. In other words, focusing on the worst and most

1 culpable parties first would be the most prudent course because litigation against them offered the 2 highest return on investment of time and resources. This return on investment is not just in terms of 3 recovery of funds, but also in information that will aid in secondary litigation.

4 22. I believe my course action has been correct because not only have I been able to 5 recover millions of dollars for the benefit of creditors, I have uncovered sources of information not 6 available until recently that will be of tremendous aid in identifying heretofore unknown bad actors.
7 I have already filed at least one hundred adversary proceedings before the current deadline. If 8 successful, these adversary proceedings will generate millions of dollars for the Estate, which can be 9 distributed to creditors.

10 23. For these reasons, I submit that extending the deadlines to file adversary complaints 11 under 11 U.S.C. §§108, 541, 542, 544, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550 and 551 is not only warranted, but 12 necessary under basic principles of equity and justice.

13 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America, that the 14 foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

15 Executed this 25 day of August 2025.
